This hands-on session will teach you how to utilize the Environmental Protection Agency's database, Portfolio Manager, an essential tool for energy management and energy savings. Workshop participants will be seated at a computer work station and receive step-by-step instructions for setting up their ENERGY STAR benchmarking accounts and will begin the initial energy performance rating for their building.

Complimentary breakfast of assorted pastries and coffee.

Learn how to:

- Reduce energy costs
- Improve tenant satisfaction
- Increase building competitiveness
- Reduce O&M costs
- Extend equipment life
- Increase asset value

Cost per workshop:

Registration fee:

$50 in advance for IFMA Seattle and/or
BOMA South Puget Sound members

$65 in advance for non-members

$75 at the door

What is the BOMA Energy Efficiency Program (BEEP)?

Developed by the BOMA Foundation in partnership with the US Environmental Protection Agency ENERGY STAR program, BEEP is an innovative operational excellence program designed for property owners, managers, and operators. Previously only available in national web casts—live, interactive sessions held in Washington State will focus on low- and no-cost techniques for optimizing equipment, people, and practices.
