LEED EB-OM Study Sessions REGISTRATION

Study Sessions are three 4-hour sessions scheduled every other week beginning January 22 and designed to prepare participants for the LEED EB-OM exam. These sessions focus on reinforcing the concepts and credits through group exercises and application to real life projects. Participants are expected to take time to read the material before each class, and complete two quizzes or practice exams every session as well as a flashcard exercise. Jim Jenkins and Sue Nicol of O'Brien & Co. are the instructors and curriculum developers; both have taken LEED Accredited Professional exams and at least one will have taken the new EB Exam before the Sessions begin so we can provide insight on what to expect.
